List of Programs

On this page, review the list of teacher preparation programs offered by your institution of higher education (IHE) or organization. If you submitted an IPRC last year, this list of programs is pre-loaded from your prior year's report. If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the programs in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, list all traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, list all alternative programs within the IHE. You may edit, delete, and insert new rows as necessary.

If Other, please specify:

When they apply and are accepted to the Teacher Education Program.

2. Does your initial teacher certification program conditionally admit students?

4. Please provide any additional information about or exceptions to the admissions information provided above:

Once certain prerequisites are completed (EDUC 150, EDUC 230, and EDUC 270 or EDUC 290), students who meet the minimum GPA requirements (2.75 in major, licensure coursework, and cumulative, and have earned no grade lower than a C in an Education course) are invited to complete the Teacher Education Program (TEP) application packet. Students must submit a cover page (indicating grade level and content area interests), evidence of successful FBI background clearance (TSPC fingerprinting), a copy of their final field experience evaluations for EDUC 150 and EDUC 270 or EDUC 290 (focused on dispositions), an introductory video, a philosophy of education paper, a reflective personal narrative, and a confidential Education Department faculty recommendation. The TEP program application is assessed based on a 4-point rubric and is evaluated by a joint team of Education Department faculty and teachers and administrators from our PK-12 partner schools. This team recommends candidates for the TEP, recommends with reservations (areas of reservations must be outlined), or does not recommend candidates. Candidates who do not meet the minimum GPA requirements or the minimum C in Education course requirement are not admitted. Candidates recommended with reservations will have additional requirements outlined depending on the nature of the concerns outlined.

Enrollment

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

On this page, enter the number of candidates for an initial teaching credential who are enrolled in the initial teacher preparation programs within your institution of higher education (IHE) or organization. Do not report on the total number of students enrolled in the entire IHE. Do not include individuals who currently hold a teaching credential and are seeking additional licenses or endorsements, or individuals preparing for school-based careers other than classroom teachers (e.g., administrators, guidance counselors).

The Department recognizes that in many cases, candidates voluntarily report their race/ethnicity and gender data, and that in some cases, candidates may choose not to report this information. Please report on the race/ethnicity data you have available, though the data may not be complete. It is not expected that the sum of the enrolled students reported by race/ethnicity or by gender will necessarily equal the total number of students enrolled.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the candidates enrolled in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the candidates enrolled in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the candidates enrolled in the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the enrollment data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Enrollment

For the purpose of Title II reporting, an enrolled student is defined as a student who has been admitted to a teacher preparation program, but who has not completed the program during the academic year being reported. An individual who completed the program during the academic year being reported is counted as a program completer and not an enrolled student.

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. Also note that individuals can belong to one or more racial groups, so the sum of the members of each racial category may not necessarily add up to the total number of students enrolled. ## Teachers Prepared

On this page, enter the number of program completers by the subject area in which they were prepared to teach, and by their academic majors. Note that an individual can be counted in more than one academic major and subject area. For example, if an individual is prepared to teach Elementary Education and Mathematics, that individual should be counted in both subject areas. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major or subject area, you may leave the cell blank. Please use the "Other" category sparingly, if there is no similar subject area or academic major listed. In these cases, you should use the text box to describe the subject area(s) and/or the academic major(s) counted in the "Other" category.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the program completers in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the program completers in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the program completers for the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the teachers prepared data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Teachers Prepared by Academic Major

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by academic major for academic year 2017-18. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Academic major" refers to the actual major(s) declared by the program completer. An individual can be counted in more than one academic major. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major, please leave that cell blank. (§205\(b\)\(1\)\(H\))

Please note that the list of majors includes several "Teacher Education" majors, as well as several noneducation majors. Please use care in entering your majors to ensure education-specific majors and non-education majors are counted correctly. For example, if an individual majored in Chemistry, that individual should be counted in the "Chemistry" academic major category rather than the "Teacher Education–Chemistry" category.

Program Completers

On this page, enter the total number of individuals who completed the program in AY 2017-18 and the two prior academic years. If you submitted an IPRC last year, the number of program completers for the two prior academic years are pre-loaded from your prior year's report.

A program completer is a person who has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program. Program completers include all those who are documented as having met such requirements. Documentation may take the form of a degree, institutional certificate, program credential, transcript or other written proof of having met the program's requirements. In applying this definition, the fact that an individual has or has not been recommended to the state for initial certification or licensure may not be used as a criterion for determining who is a program completer.

An individual cannot be classified as both enrolled and as a program completer at the same time. An enrolled individual is not a program completer. Once an individual has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program and becomes a program completer, the individual is no longer classified as enrolled.

After entering the program completers, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

8. Describe your institution's most successful strategies in meeting the assurances listed above:

We meet regularly with PK-12 school partners to learn about school district needs. We translate this information to advising of students, office communication and processes, and occasionally, to adding new endorsements or programs. In our regular meetings with PK-12 school partners, they keep us abreast of current technology and instructional strategies being used in their respective districts and classrooms. We also learn this through faculty and adjunct faculty college supervisors who go out into the schools and observe student teachers. All students in the Linfield Education Program take the compulsory EDUC 302 Diversity and Education Course. Within the content of this course, students are introduced to their responsibilities as a comprehensive classroom teacher to identify academic, social, and behavioral disabilities based on IDEA legal definitions of disabilities. Students start with an understanding of RtI with a case study of students with academic, social, and behavioral struggles. They learn to identify accommodations and interventions for their case study students and how to create a running-record of data on their improvement in achievement or lack thereof. Students then learn the structures in current schools of SAT Teams and how to refer a student for additional assistance for whom the interventions have not worked for. Students then learn the process for an IEP, their responsibility as a general education teacher, and the process of implementing accommodations. Students then work on the most commonly identified disabilities in classrooms, learn their definitions, identify specific accommodation strategies, and create a resource list of books and websites to be able to utilize for references as they enter the classrooms. Finally, utilizing differentiated instruction as the philosophical backbone for inclusive education for all K-12 students, Linfield students explore frameworks and strategies for differentiated lesson planning. They create lessons that are differentiated for students with disabilities in classrooms as well as recognize that lessons that are differentiated are vital to all lesson planning instruction. Additionally, students work in an autism classroom with 12-16 students to plan, enact, and evaluate differentiated instruction. All PK-12 candidates are required to take EDUC 240: Foundations for Teaching ESOL, even if they are not in our ESOL endorsement program. Oregon has statewide ELL standards for all PK-12 candidates, which we have embedded across several program courses that all candidates take. All students in the Linfield Education Program take the compulsory EDUC 150: Introduction to Education and EDUC 302: Diversity and Education Courses. In EDUC 150, students are introduced to frameworks for cultural assets and instructional strategies with students from low socio-economic households. Additionally, students complete a 20-hour school aiding practicum. 80% of the students are placed in the lowest socioeconomic, most racially and linguistically diverse elementary school in a local district. In EDUC 302, students are introduced to culturally relevant education, socio-cultural theories of social class status of students with a focus on non-deficit and cultural assets, equity pedagogy, as well as critical social justice education. They write lesson plans, design classroom environments, and analyze student-student and teacher-student interactions with a lens aimed toward social class. Additionally, they are presented videos of different schools in different SES neighborhoods, evaluate the differences between them, and discuss in-depth teacher responses and accountability to have resources available, even in low SES neighborhoods. Utilizing a socio-cultural lens and equity pedagogy framework that places social identities of students and teachers as imperative to teaching and learning, EDUC 302 students look at the intersections of identities of race, class, gender, language, immigration status, sexuality, spirituality, and geographical regions. As such, PK-12 students are contextualized in their social contexts as learners, and Linfield students are taught to adapt lessons through equity pedagogy and culturally relevant instruction.

The pass rates table is populated from files provided by the testing company or state. The table provides information on the performance of the students in your teacher preparation program on each teacher credential assessment used by your state. In cases where a student has taken a given assessment more than once, the highest score on that test is used. In the case of a teacher preparation program with fewer than 10 scores reported on any single initial teacher credential assessment during an academic year, the program shall collect and publish information with respect to an average pass rate and scaled score on each state credential assessment taken over a three-year period.  \(§205\(a\)\(1\)\(B\)\)
